Hi Darren,
Attached is the letter with our request. I know that we have delayed in getting this piece done, but the owner, Jason Wood just welcomed his first baby a week ago Saturday. I have not been able to discuss this letter with him and get a signature until today.

Is email okay or does it need to be mailed?

Thank you for your help.
Janet

Janet,

Any information that your company feels might help explain why the deadline was missed and why the commission should consider allowing a payment plan. If it is as simple as "we messed up" sometimes that is not a bad thing. It can also help to address ways the company has made changes or enacted new procedures to ensure future violations do not occur. We have had companies indicate they have hired a new employee, or shifted responsibility of a current one, for overseeing locate requests. Basically anything you can think of to plead your case as to why the commission should consider allowing your company to enter into payment arrangements almost four months after the penalty was issued.

If you have any further questions please don't hesitate to ask.

Hi Darren,
I am writing my letter and I am curious about the information I should include. The easy part is the request for a payment plan. However, what information does the decision maker need in order to evaluate our case?
Thanks!
Janet
