Subject:	Avista"s new "smart" meters
Date:	Wednesday, February 20, 2019 9:58:16 AM

My major concern with the "smart" meters is security. It is my understanding that the meters are connected to the internet and I am guessing that it is also connected to my account. That account has my banking account information on it. I want the UTC to make sure that when the "smart" meters are hacked, my information will be safe. Any system that uses the internet can and more than likely will be hacked.
My other concern is Avista adjusting my meter settings to balance out the peaks and ebbs of energy demands. I have the right to decide when and how much heat/cooling I need, not Avista. I want the UTC to make sure that Avista does not have that kind of control over my meters.

Sincerely,
Jackie Truelove
