The Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (Commission) believes that you have violated Revised Code of Washington (RCW) 19.122.030(1)(a) by failing to request a dig ticket prior to performing an excavation. RCW 19.122.055(1)(a) states, in part, that any excavator who fails to notify a one-number locator service and causes damage to a hazardous liquid or gas facility is subject to a civil penalty of not more than ten thousand dollars for each violation.

Commission staff (Staff) conducted an investigation in which it reviewed damage reports submitted by Puget Sound Energy (PSE) and identified two natural gas damage events involving Tim Wise, d/b/a Tank Wise, LLC (Tank Wise), where buried utilities were not located prior to excavation. Accordingly, the Commission hereby notifies you that it is assessing a penalty against you in the amount of $2,000 on the following grounds:

(First Violation)

On August 20, 2013, Tank Wise performed an excavation to remove an abandoned oil tank at 1900 16th Avenue South, Seattle, Washington. Prior to beginning excavation, Tank Wise, LLC failed to request a locate ticket from a one-number locator service to have the underground utilities located.

On October 2, 2013, PSE submitted a Damage Incident Reporting Tool (DIRT) report identifying Tank Wise as the party responsible for damaging PSE's natural gas service line at 1900 16th Avenue South, Seattle, Washington, on August 20, 2013, without first obtaining a ticket number to have utilities located prior to excavation.

On October 9, 2013, the Commission mailed an Alleged Violation of Washington Dig Law letter to Tank Wise, informing the company of its obligation to have underground utilities located prior to excavation, as outlined in RCW 19.122.030. The letter emphasized the importance of becoming familiar with the law, and the possibility of penalties for each violation of the law.

(Second Violation)

On October 16, 2013, Tank Wise performed an excavation to remove an oil tank at 1316 North 34th Street, Renton, Washington. Prior to beginning excavation, Tank Wise failed to request a locate ticket from a one-number locator service to have the underground utilities located.

On December 3, 2013, PSE submitted a DIRT report identifying Tank Wise as the party responsible for damaging PSE's natural gas service line at 1316 North 34th Street, Renton, Washington, on October 16, 2013, without first obtaining a locate ticket number to have utilities located prior to excavation.

On January 23, 2014, the Commission mailed an Alleged Violation of Washington Dig Law letter to Tank Wise, LLC, informing the company of its obligation to have underground utilities located prior to excavation, as outlined in RCW 19.122.030. The letter emphasized the importance of becoming familiar with the law, and the possibility of penalties for each violation of the law.

Based on the results of Staff's investigation, the Commission finds that Tank Wise, LLC violated RCW 19.122.030(1)(a) twice, by failing to request a dig tickets prior to performing an excavation, and assesses a $1,000 penalty for each violation. These facts, if not contested or if proved at a hearing and not rebutted or explained, are sufficient to support the penalty assessment.

Your penalty is due and payable now. If you believe the violations did not occur, you may request a hearing to contest the penalty assessment. The Commission will grant that request only if material issues of law or fact require consideration of evidence and resolution in a hearing. A request for a hearing must include a written statement of the reasons supporting that request. Failure to provide such a statement will result in denial of the request.

If you admit the violation but believe there is a reason for the violation that should excuse you from the penalty, you may ask for mitigation (reduction) of this penalty through evidence presented at a hearing or through a written statement. The Commission will grant a request for hearing only if material issues of law or fact require consideration of evidence and resolution in a hearing. A request for mitigation, either in a hearing or through a written statement, must include a written explanation of the reasons supporting that request. Failure to provide such an explanation will result in denial of the request.

If you properly present your request for a hearing and the Commission grants that request, the Commission will review the evidence supporting your dispute of the violation or application for mitigation in a Brief Adjudicative Proceeding before an administrative law judge. The administrative law judge will consider the evidence and will notify you of his or her decision.
