INTRODUCTION

- 1 On May 29, 2024, Marsik Movers, LLC (Marsik or Applicant) filed a Household Goods Moving Company Permit Application with the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (Commission) for reinstatement of permit authority to operate in Washington State as a household goods carrier (2024 Permit Application or Application).
- 2 On July 10, 2024, the Commission issued a Notice of Intent to Deny Application for Reinstatement of Permit Authority; Notice of Opportunity for hearing (Notice) in this matter based on its review of evidence including Revised Order 01 in Docket TV-230020. Revised Order 01 identified “systemic deficiency” in Marsik’s safety management process and declined to find that Marsik made “substantial progress toward a satisfactory rating” over the 5 years that it held provisional authority.¹ In other words, the conditions that lead to cancellation were long-standing and deeply embedded within the fabric of the company. Correcting said conditions under the record laid by Revised Order 01 would be a high bar. The Commission found that the Company had presented nothing in its application for reinstatement that would meet that bar. The Notice provided Lake Union Ferry the opportunity to request a hearing to contest the factual allegations by February 1, 2024.
- 3 On July 23, 2024, Marsik filed with the Commission a Request for Hearing.
- 4 Pursuant to Revised Code of Washington (RCW) 34.05.482 and Washington Administrative Code (WAC) 480-07-610, the Commission determines that a brief
