REQUEST:

If the Company has prepared such load research, provide the on-peak and off-peak monthly loads by customer class for any period for which such data has been assembled.

RESPONSE:

The loads by customer class have not been assembled into on-peak and off-peak periods, however, the most recent electric load study performed for the Company did include hourly loads for all rate classes for all 8760 hours during 1993. Attached is a computer diskette with the Excel worksheets containing these hourly results compressed into a Zip file.
