Chris --

Pursuant to our conversation on Friday, AT&T is verifying whether the data TNS intends to provide is the same as it provided in California or is more limited, and we will let you know. I also asked about a brief extension of the schedule. AT&T's preference would be to retain the existing schedule, but if necessary, we would not oppose a one month delay. Please direct any other questions that come up next week to Mary Steele, who will be covering for me while I am in hearings. Thanks!

Chris --

Sorry this has taken so long, but TNS informs us that it will send the data to me by Wednesday of next week. I will be out of the office in hearings, but I will arrange to have the data forwarded to you. Because this is third party confidential information, however, you (and anyone else who will be reviewing the data) will need to provide us with executed confirmations to be bound by the third party confidentiality agreement between AT&T and Verizon before we can send it to you. Thanks!

Greg

Chris --

I just spoke with folks at AT&T about this issue. They have a request in to TNS for the information that we represented that we would provide, but they have not gotten a response yet. They will try again, and I will let you know as soon as I know when TNS can provide the information. Sorry for not getting back to you sooner.

Greg:

Any word from your client on this? If the data and information detailed in my letter last Friday is not going to be produced tomorrow, I'm going to have to go to the ALJ.

Regards,

Chris

Thanks, Chris. I also got your voice mail message, but not until a few minutes ago. Sorry I was not able to get back to you before the end of your day. I have forwarded this to folks at AT&T, and I will let you know as soon as I hear back from them (which should be the first part of next week, after the Monday holiday). Have a nice weekend. Greg
