BACKGROUND

- 1 Qwest Corporation (Qwest or Company) requested on October 5, 2007, that the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (Commission) overturn the numbering North American Number Plan Administrator's (Administrator) decision to withhold numbering resources and direct the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Pooling Administrator, Neustar, Inc., to provide two sequential one thousand number-blocks (2,000 numbers) in the 509 area code, Spokane rate center. Qwest's inventory of telephone numbers for assignment in the rate center does not satisfy the customer's very specific requirement of a single prefix with the last four digits not to begin with the digit "9." The Qwest customer is a large financial institution consolidating four locations into a single number plan. The customer has acquisition and growth resource requirements and has experienced conflicts with their existing internal company numbering plan. The customer will return existing numbering resources once the transfer to a new numbering plan is complete within nine months. The Spokane rate center does not have the consecutive numbers the customer is requesting. Qwest submitted a request to the Pooling Administrator for additional numbering resources in the rate center, however, the request was denied as the serving central office does not meet the utilization level established by the FCC.

- 2 The Pooling Administrator, NeuStar, Inc., will only accept an exception request with a waiver from the Commission. The FCC granted state commissions the authority to direct the Pooling Administrator to release numbers to a carrier to satisfy a specific customer request that can not be met with the carrier's current inventory. The Commission investigated the Company's request in order to address number conservation measures in the area code and found no reason to disapprove it. Qwest will adhere to the requirement to review numbering resources and the Company will comply with the requirements of the FCC's North American Number Plan Administrator and Pooling Administrator regarding the return of unused numbers. Qwest provided the Commission with the customer's request, detailed data, and provided detailed inventory for number resources and proof of utilization in the rate center.

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

- 3 (1) On December 28, 2001, the FCC issued an order establishing a "safety valve" allowing carriers that do not meet the utilization threshold in a given rate center to obtain additional numbering resources apart from the general waiver process.<sup>1</sup> Specifically, the FCC granted to state commissions the authority to direct the Pooling Administrator (Neustar) to release numbers to a carrier to satisfy a specific customer request that can not be met with the carrier's current inventory.<sup>2</sup>
- 4 (2) The Commission has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to RCW 80.36.610, which gives the Commission authority to take actions necessary to implement the Federal Telecommunications Act of 1996.
- 5 (3) Normally, additional numbering resources are granted only when existing resources are forecasted to exhaust within six months.
- 6 (4) The 509 area code is projected to exhaust in the first quarter of 2013.

- 7 (1) Neustar, Inc., acting as the Pooling Administrator, may release two one thousand number-blocks, in a single prefix with the last four digits absent "9", in the Spokane rate center, area code 509, to Qwest Corporation.
