Re: Docket UT-061625 – Petition for AFOR
WA Catalog No. 2 - Catalog Corrections Filing in Accordance with Order No. 17

Dear Ms. Washburn,

Enclosed please find an original plus three (3) copies of Qwest's WA Catalog No. 2 Catalog Corrections Filing in accordance with Order 17 in this docket. This filing includes both four (4) clean and two (2) redlined versions of the catalog. Pursuant to permission from Judge Clark, Qwest will file two (2) additional redlined copies via overnight delivery due to a copy production issue.

The catalog includes all of the changes that were made since the original informational/compliance filing. Thus, this catalog is a baseline reference catalog that indicates, by redlined or shaded markings, all the changes that have occurred to Qwest's WA Catalog No. 2 as a result of Qwest's AFOR Compliance Filing Nos. 3635T and 3639T, and Transmittal Nos. 3636T and 3640T, including replacement pages. Specifically, new sections that have been added to the catalog are indicated by 'underlining' while sections of the catalog that contain services and provisions that have been deleted from the tariff, but previously existed in the catalog are indicated by 'shading'.<sup>1</sup> And, provisions that have been deleted from the catalog are indicated by 'strike-through'.<sup>2</sup>

Staff and Public Counsel will be provided with a hard copy via messenger. Qwest will send a hard copy of this catalog filing to any other party of record that requests hard

<sup>1</sup> Prior to AFOR approval, Qwest's digital business services were competitively classified only in certain wire centers. As such, Qwest was required to have the same services in both its tariff and its catalog with the distinction being whether the service was being provided in a competitive or non-competitive wire center.

copies, however, consistent with past requests and agreements, only an electronic copy is provided at this time.
