Description	Rosario Utilities on Orcas Island has requested a rate increase to raise the average water bill by $12.00/month. My issue is that we have two "water certificiates" -- allowing us to switch to the Rosario water system if we choose, rather than using our well -- and we _already_ pay $12/month to be on "Ready to Serve" status with no usage. This increase would double our monthly payment from $12 to $24 (for each of our two "certificates"). That is, our bill would go up 100%, while Rosario basically has to do nothing, because they are not currently serving us. This does not seem right or equal. I understand if the cost of "Ready to Serve" status must go up a little bit over time -- but not 100% in a single jump. Thank you for your time to listen to my concern.
