Amy,

I have asked Amanda or Tania to reach out to you. They are the Operations Specialists in control of container movement. I'd like them to work closely with you during this start up transition and get a good grasp on your needs.

Amy,

The key to having containers available is keeping WM informed about startups, slowdowns, and anticipated needs. We do not just keep a healthy stockpile of empty containers on hand. We move them around to where they are needed, as scheduled. Can you please give me an estimate of weekly or bi monthly container needs so I can get these assets scheduled for your use?

Evan

We are running pretty steady now. It sounds like Hermann Brothers is having a hard time getting containers from you guys however. Can you please check into this for me?

Thanks.
