Introduction:

$95/hour for two movers and a truck, this does not cover your drive time. There's a 2 hour minimum, we issue a 2 hour window for afternoon jobs just in case our first job goes over the expected end time. If we book you between 12-2pm we may show up on time or we may still be finishing up the first move, however we will keep you updated and let you know when to expect us. We are here to make your moving experience stressless. My husband has 12+ years of moving experience, he knows all the ins and outs and has done various moves from nursing homes, (assisted living) to 5 and 6 bedroom homes. We wrap and protect all furniture to keep it damage free and guarantee your belongings are in great hands! Thanks for choosing Moving Clique!

FAQs

What should the customer know about your pricing (e.g., discounts, fees)?

We

beat most if not all prices and sometimes issue discounts! We have a two hour minimum that includes two movers and a truck at $95/hour.

What is your typical process for working with a new customer?

Making

sure the customer is comfortable, figure out a game plan and go from there. We first figure out a date they want to move then ask how many bedrooms, stairs, elevators etc. We also let the customer know there's a travel fee if they are out of our service area.

What education and/or training do you have that relates to your work?

I was the lead on several different moving companies and learned valuable skills in which taught me how to run our own business now. I guess you can say I've studied over 10 years of moving and pretty much have it down to a science.

Horrible customer service and business practices! We used them twice in the last couple months- found them on an app called Thumbtack. The first time, they were 2 1/2 hours late to our move which was an early morning appointment so they had no move prior. The movers themselves were great and the owners were apologetic that time and even offered us a discount. We decided to give them another try since they were nice about the mistake before and we figured they wouldn't screw up a second time, right? Wrong. The movers were supposed to meet my husband at our storage unit at 8am Saturday. They were late again so my husband called the owners phone number, instead of answering she texts back "who is this?" Never once did she pick up her phone and actually speak to him, she would only text back because she said "she was in an important meeting with her kid". Turns out she had us down for the wrong Saturday. Told us they couldn't get to us until 1pm and we had no other options but to take that time since we called other places and no one had any last minute openings and we needed to get into our new home as we are a family with small children. We had family pictures that later afternoon we had no choice but to call and cancel because of their second scheduling oversight. She never once offered us a discount and her word choice/ tone over text was highly rude for someone owning a business when we are the customers and it was their mistake. She even texted my husband after the move was complete asking us "when her guys left our move", isn't that their job to know that information? You would think they would want to make it right but that's the not the way they do business apparently. Completely shocked at their lack of care for customer service. Wouldn't recommend. Only plus is the guys who moved us did a good job and were very nice.

I cannot give this business anything other than one star after what I went through w/The Moving Clique.

My mom originally got in contact as the prices looked reasonable for what we wanted (move some furniture out
 Response time: 20 minutes | Response rate: 100%

from a room to our patio for pickup). I called The Moving Clique and talked to Marcus to schedule a time. The first time they didn't answer, but I did call back about a day or two later and got in contact with Marcus. We're ready at that time to schedule an appointment and I gave Marcus my availability. He needed to check on what his own availability was for himself and that he'd call me back.

We're lucky that we got another moving company to help; two weeks later I called back and The Moving Clique didn't answer and went straight to voicemail, where the "mailbox is currently full."

I never got a call back or anything; it seems like other people called too since their mailbox was full. There are many moving companies in the Seattle area; don't choose this one.

We used Marcus and Moving Clique for our recent move. They are reasonably priced, and did a great job. Nothing was broken, and they even put together a bed frame for us. The team consisted of Marcus (the owner), his older brother, and a third man. The guys work hard and seem to have a great time doing it. They work quickly and efficiently. I wouldn't hesitate to call Moving Clique for your next move.

I needed movers on short notice and they came through even though I requested for a later time in the afternoon. They were very efficient and worked quickly, even with disassembling and reassembling our furniture that needed it. Even a little mishap that happened during the latter part of the move, Marcus was quick to resolve it. I took off one star only because one of their staff members came off strong and not very ppl friendly. Make sure to ask for Marcus, call/text the number provided directly and do not communicate via the app.

Honest, professional crew. Super flexible and ready to do whatever it takes. They were almost an hour late but if I'm being honest I wasn't close to done packing yet anyway!

RE: Household Goods Moving in Washington State

Dear Marcus Smith:

The Utilities and Transportation Commission has information that you are conducting household goods moves within the state of Washington. Advertisements for your household goods services have been found on movingclique.net. You do not have a valid permit, as required by state law, to conduct this type of work. Conducting household goods moves requires a permit issued by the commission.

To avoid enforcement action, your complete household goods permit application, supporting materials, and application fee must be submitted to the commission by June 6, 2019.

Until you obtain a permit, you must immediately cease operating as a household goods mover in Washington State. Operating as a household goods mover without the required permit is illegal and subject to a penalty of $5,000 per violation.¹ This means that you may receive this penalty for each day you operate in violation of the law.

You must also immediately cease advertising as a household goods mover in Washington State. Advertising for the transportation of property for compensation in Washington without a proper permit is against the law. The penalty for advertising without a permit is $5,000 per violation. This means that you may receive a penalty for each and every advertisement. At this time, the commission has documented advertisements for household goods moving services from The Moving Clique, LLC.

If you advertise or operate as a household goods mover without a permit, the commission will take enforcement action against you. Such action may include the above-mentioned financial penalties; and you will be served with a subpoena and be required to appear before a judge.

Again, to avoid enforcement action, your complete application, supporting materials, and application fee must be submitted to the commission by June 6, 2019.

If you have questions about the household goods laws, please contact Brian Braun, Compliance Investigator, at (360) 664-1129.

Should you decide to apply for a household goods moving permit, please note that you still may not operate as a household goods mover in Washington State until you have received a permit. To request a permit application, please call (360) 664-1222. You may also download an application from the commission's website at www.utc.wa.gov/mover.

Hello Marcus,

Just to confirm, the move would be October 19, 2019.

I am moving from 4835 Queen Anne Ave, Seattle WA, 98109 to 4315 Pacific Ave, Everett, WA 98201.

You stated that for 2 guys and a truck would be $95 an hour or 3 guys and a truck for $120.

Time starts from when you leave your shop in Bothell to half an hour after you are done with the move.

Please let me know that you got this email and all is correct.

Thanks,

Scott
