Hi,

I am glad that PSE is moving to cleaner power sources, but this is just a good business decision for them since wind and hydro power are now the least expensive ways to generate power. I can understand why “green” power used to cost more for consumers, but the days are gone where utilities require subsidies to not pollute. If PSE requests permission to charge more for power that costs them less to generate, then please dissolve their monopoly and open up our grid to other competition like they have in the UK. Their green power programs should cost less for consumers, not more. Their shares in wind generation should result in a discount to consumers, not in cost increases. IN the UK, consumers who invest in wind farms get their power for less money - not more - as that makes sense since is less expensive to generate it.
