Gentlemen:

I am writing to protest the proposed rate increase (again!) of Eastside Disposal garbage collection.

I have done everything I possibly can to cut back higher fees such as carrying my can out to the road and using the smallest can provided. I am 81 years old and so far can manage to do this. I was shocked to read that people with three cans pay less per can than I do with one small can.

I take all my old newspapers to the Animal Humane Society and never put yard waste in the garbage can. I understand there is a fine for doing that.

Perhaps you can tell me how to reduce this utility fee. No, I am not eligible for the senior discount but feel I should not be penalized for that.

Incidentally, Eastside Disposal charged me $11.65 for changing sizes from the large to the small and for redelivery of the new can! Isn't that the height of greediness?

Sincerely,

Irene R. Spencer
