Comments As a local lover of Stehekin, I have found the current ferry service to be too limited for me to use very often. I get such a small window on day trips. And, when I want to travel there with out-of-town friends, they have to drive in, spend the night in Chelan (which can be expensive and tricky during the high season) and then do the same on the return trip. I would like to have the options Backcountry Travels is providing because I can travel and meet with the Stehekin community more often, especially in the winter months.
