6 JUDGE KOPTA: Let's be on the record in
7 Docket UT-220774 captioned Washington Utilities and
8 Transportation Commission v. NW Fiber, LLC.

9 We are here ostensibly for a prehearing
10 conference in a complaint brought by the Commission
11 against this company, and we will begin by taking
12 appearances after I announce that it is Greg Kopta. I
13 am the Administrative Law Judge who is presiding in this 14 proceeding.

15 And so we will begin with appearances from --
16 starting with Commission Staff.

17 MR. ROBERSON: Good afternoon, Judge Kopta.
18 My name is Jeff Roberson. I'm an AAG representing 19 Staff. My contact information is listed in the 20 complaint in this docket. With me at counsel table is 21 one of Staff's regulatory analysts.

22 JUDGE KOPTA: All right. Thank you,
23 Mr. Roberson.

24 I don't see that anyone from the company is on
25 the line, but I will give an opportunity just in case

1 we're missing them.

2 Is anyone from the company with us this
3 afternoon? Hearing nothing, we will proceed.

4 As I said, this is ostensibly a prehearing
5 conference which would resolve various procedural issues
6 including setting a schedule for this proceeding, but 7 that's not something that obviously is possible without
8 the company's participation.

9 At this point, Mr. Roberson, would you like to 10 make a motion?

11 MR. ROBERSON: Indeed, Judge Kopta. At this
12 point, Staff would move for the entry of an order of 13 default. RCW 34.05.443 and WAC 480-07-450 both allow 14 the Commission to enter a default where a respondent or 15 other party fails to appear at the place and time
16 designated for hearing.

17 I note that the complaint and notice of
18 prehearing conference at -- I believe it's Page 4,
19 paragraph 28 -- inform the company that the failure to 20 appear at this hearing could result in a default. The 21 company has failed to appear at the place and time
22 designated for hearing.

23 So Staff would ask that you enter an order of 24 default and resolve the substantive matters at issue in 25 the complaint.

1 JUDGE KOPTA: And it's my understanding that
2 the company is actually dissolved; is that correct?

3 MR. ROBERSON: They are. And I have two
4 thoughts about that.

5 One is we could invite testimony here about
6 that. The screen-captures of the relevant records are 7 posted in the docket here, but given that those are 8 government publications and government records -- one is 9 a FERC order and one is a filing with the Secretary of 10 State -- it would be simple and proper for the 11 Commission to simply take administrative notice of 12 those.

13 RCW 34.05.452 5A allows the Commission to take
14 administrative notice of any judicially cognizable fact.
15 WAC 480-07-495 2A basically has the same provision: The 16 Commission can take judicial notice of any judicially
17 cognizable fact, and the courts roundly agree that 18 government records and administrative orders are
19 properly subject to judicial or administrative notice.

20 And so Staff's preference would be for the 21 Commission to simply take notice of those facts and 22 enter a default order.

23 JUDGE KOPTA: Well, that is my understanding
24 of the law as well. And it's also my understanding that 25 Staff -- neither Staff nor you have had any contact with

1 the company since the complaint was issued?

2 MR. ROBERSON: None at all.

3 JUDGE KOPTA: Do you happen to know whether
4 the company is in bankruptcy?

5 MR. ROBERSON: I do not. I simply know that
6 it voluntarily dissolved. I believe it was a year ago.
7 I think it was in August of 2021.

8 JUDGE KOPTA: The only reason I say that is
9 because we've been down this road before with a company
10 that was in bankruptcy, and the automatic stay may 11 prevent us from doing anything with respect to their 12 authority until the bankruptcy court were to rule.

13 So I just, you know, would like to be more
14 comfortable that nothing like that has happened, but it
15 doesn't sound like this is the type of company that 16 would be in those sorts of circumstances or that they 17 would even file for bankruptcy if they've gone through 18 dissolution.

19 But do you have any thoughts?

20 MR. ROBERSON: No. I do note that -- I've
21 read the FERC order, and there's no reference to a
22 bankruptcy. It's just -- the company defaulted on its 23 obligations. So as far as I know, they are not in 24 bankruptcy.

25 JUDGE KOPTA: Okay. Well, I think the

1 Commission can go ahead and act as it sees appropriate,
2 and if a bankruptcy court actually has jurisdiction over
3 this matter, then they will let us know.

4 MR. ROBERSON: Most certainly.

5 JUDGE KOPTA: All right. Is there anything
6 further, Mr. Roberson?

7 MR. ROBERSON: Not from Staff.

8 JUDGE KOPTA: Okay. Those were the
9 questions that I had. I will grant the motion, and 10 we'll issue -- or enter an order in due course to that 11 effect.

12 So unless we have anything further, then I
13 believe that takes care of what we have for today unless 14 you have anything else.

15 MR. ROBERSON: I do not.

16 JUDGE KOPTA: All right. Thanks very much.
17 Then we are adjourned.
