Dear Ms. Hansen:

On September 21, 2006, as the regulatory analyst assigned to this docket and the author of the memorandum of the 13th of September provided by Gene Eckhardt at a hearing regarding the CR-102 of this docket, I made inquiry of you regarding the sudden unexpected turn of events as detailed in your memorandum and the associated legislation suggested. I was expecting a reply from you before this date so that I could understand your and the commission's reasoning and stated restrictions. I am now in receipt of a copy of proposed legislative changes from Chris Rose which have been submitted for the 2007 session. As I have had no response from you to date I am restricted in my ability to analyze these changes. If you will review my comments of September 21, you will refresh yourself on my concerns. As previously stated I am specifically curious as to the restrictions imposed by current legislation on the commission's ability to effect change in fare setting methodology.

I eagerly await your reply.
