

Dear WUTC:

Railroad yards are many times located next to densely populated areas, such as Olympia, Seattle, Tacoma, and Vancouver to name a few. We need to continue to have real people operate these trains and locomotives for our communities safety. We are on a continued terrorist alert, railroads handle much of our nations HazMat material, many more pedestrians will be run over without the eyes and adeptness of a railroad engineer. Please help our communities and don't allow railroads to replace professional engineers with a computer box.

Sincerely,

Deb Allen
