MR. VASQUEZ: Here.

JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. And Docket TV-150190, Daniel Bradford, Last Minute Movers.

Okay. Hearing nothing.

So far there are two companies who have not entered an appearance today. Those companies are subject to being held in default and having an order entered against them without a chance to address the Commission, and I will take those cases up later this morning.

Each of you are here because over the last several weeks, the Commission filed a complaint alleging that each of your companies is performing or advertising to perform work as a household goods carrier without the Commission-required permit

Under Washington law, it is strictly prohibited to engage in business as a household goods carrier without first obtaining a household goods carrier permit from the Commission. That law, which is cited in the complaint filed against you, can be found at RCW 81.80.075(1).

The purpose of today's proceeding is to formally explain your choices under the law, and then hear from each of you regarding which option you wish to pursue.

You can choose one of two options on behalf of your company. You can cease and desist providing, offering, and advertising unpermitted household goods services, but if you choose this option, you'll need to demonstrate what you have each of your companies today, I will explain the rest of today's procedures. In a few minutes, I'll call each of you forward to make your choice on the record about how you want to proceed, and at that time, I'll swear you in with the oath of witness so that anything you tell the Court will be under oath and will be considered sworn testimony.

And, again, please speak slowly and clearly and use the microphone that's on the table. Once you're sworn in, I'll ask you if you understand your options for today's hearing, and then ask you to state your preference. If there's anything else that you want to explain to me, you can do so at that time.

In each of the complaints, I understand that Commission Staff has not only alleged that you're providing household goods moving services without a permit, they're also seeking to have a penalty imposed. The law sets the maximum penalty for each violation at $5,000.

Staff will be making a penalty recommendation as part of any agreed order that gets entered today. And Ms. Banks will be explaining that recommendation, but the Commission will make the final decision about the amount of the penalty to be imposed. There are a number of factors that are considered, and you may ask to be heard on the matter if you wish.

If you choose to testify about how you are getting out of the household goods moving business, I will allow you to make a statement explaining how you plan to do that. And done to shut down your business either completely or partially to avoid further enforcement action by the Commission.

The Commission is going to want to see, and I'm going to want to hear sufficient proof that you are no longer performing illegal household goods moves. For example, if you have taken down or changed your website or other online advertisements of the illegal services. So you'll have to give sufficient assurances that you're no longer going to engage in unlawful household goods moving services.

The second option you have is to ask for a formal classification hearing to show why you don't need a permit. If you choose this option, you're contesting the allegations in the complaint and you're claiming to not be conducting household goods moves at all. And for this option we'll schedule a formal hearing for a date in the near future with a deadline several weeks from now for both your company and Commission Staff to declare all witnesses and file all of your exhibits. And I do have some dates available if anyone chooses to take that option.

Each of you has a right to be heard by the Commission, and I will call you each up to do that individually. And Commission Staff also has a right to be heard. Ms. Megan Banks will be representing the Commission this morning. She's seated over here to my right. She serves as the Commission compliance investigator.

So now that I have explained the general options for depending on what proof you can provide, you should be able to reach an agreed order resolving this matter with Commission Staff. We will then see if Ms. Banks has any questions for you and I also may have questions, and you may be asked to speak further with Ms. Banks during the Court's recess.

And, finally, if you choose to contest the allegations in the complaint, we will schedule another court appearance for the Commission to present the necessary evidence to prove its case, and I will explain the types of documentation that you may need to bring in order to dispute the Commission's evidence if you decide to set up that hearing.

After I hear from each company, we'll take a break for about an hour. That will provide Commission Staff time to meet with each of you and prepare a final disposition for the case.

For most of you, I believe that Ms. Banks will be presenting agreed orders bringing your companies into compliance or agreements to leave the industry.

Ms. Banks, do you have any general statement that you would like to make on behalf of Commission Staff before I call the cases individually?

MS. BANKS: Not at this time.

JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. Let me swear you in at this point so that you'll be sworn in for the proceeding.

JUDGE PEARSON: Who is the owner of the company?  MR. INGRAM: Ronald Winn.  JUDGE PEARSON: How do you spell that last name?  MR. INGRAM: W-i-n-n.  JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. And does Mr. Winn know that  you're here today  MR. INGRAM: He does.  JUDGE PEARSON: on his behalf?  MR. INGRAM: He's a long-haul truckdriver, so he  can't be here.  I was the one that was subpoenaed because the old  company was AA Eagle Moving, sole proprietor. I was sole  proprietor of that. That was shut down after after I was subpoenaed.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22	JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. So it sounds like you do have questions for Staff at our break, but it also sounds like your best option would be to agree to an order to cease and desist.  And what that means is you're saying that you will not conduct household goods moves within the definitions of the Commission's laws and rules unless and until you get a permit. So it's not saying that you have to stop forever. It's saying that you have to stop doing it without a permit.  MR. DRYER: Yeah, which I have already done that.  I've taken away advertisements, and I have stopped since I have received that e-mail with the subpoena on it.  JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. So it sounds like that's the option you want to pursue, then. You're not contesting that you were providing household goods moves, correct?  MR. DRYER: Yes.  JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. Okay. So it sounds like that's what you'll want to do, and you can talk to Megan more about that.  And have you had the opportunity to see any of his documentation about ceasing business?  MS. JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. And, Ms. Banks, have you had the opportunity to look on Craigslist and verify that his ads are no longer up?  MS. BANKS: Yes, I have confirmed that.  JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. Good. So do you wish to make a recommendation regarding his cease and desist order?  MS. BANKS: Staff would agree with a cease and desist.  JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. So when we take a recess, you'll have the opportunity to speak with Staff and see if you can come to an agreement	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18	signed. I'll sign it on the record, and then you will leave with a copy of the order and also be officially served with a copy of the order by mail.  Anything else before we take a break?  MS. BANKS: No.  JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. Does anyone else have any questions at this point?  Okay. So at 9:50, then, we are at recess. And I will be in my office. You can just notify me when I need to come back. Thank you.  (A break was taken from 9:52 a.m. to 11:14 a.m.)  JUDGE PEARSON: Let's be back on the record. There was one of the companies, I believe Christopher Yost, Docket TV-150160, that arrived while we were at recess. Mr. Yost, are you present? MR. YOST: I am. JUDGE PEARSON: Could you please come forward? Is

(A break was taken from 11:20 a.m.  to 1:09 p.m.)  JUDGE PEARSON: All right. Good afternoon. Let's be back on the record at approximately 1:08 p.m.  I understand that the cease and desist orders have been explained and presented to each company, so I will call you back up one at a time in the order that we went in this morning beginning with Docket TV-150157, Daniel Saunders.  Thank you. No, you're already sworn in.  Did you have a chance to walk through the order?  MR. SAUNDERS: Yes, I was.  JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. And do you understand all five	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	again, you recommended or you've — yeah, you've recommended two violations: one for offering a move and one for advertising a move?  MS. BANKS: That is correct.  JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. And, again, there will be a $5,000 penalty, the entire amount of which will be suspended for a one-year period provided that you permanently refrain from offering household goods moves.  And you do understand that?  MR. DRYER: Yes.  JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. Do you have any questions?  MR. DRYER: No.  JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. So I will go ahead and sign this order. And if you've already received a copy, then you're free to go as well.
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. So we'll go back off the record. And then once everyone has had an opportunity to complete meeting with Staff, we'll come back. Thank you.
