JUDGE PEARSON: You'd have another hearing here where you would be contesting that you ever offered to provide a household goods move or offered to a provide a truck in connection with a household goods move, and contesting that any of the documentation that has been put forth by Staff is real, basically. You'd have to prove that it's that it's not true. MR. MARTIN: Okay. Well, like I said, the issue I have is I didn't know I was out of compliance. That's my I mean, I never got an e-mail, a notice, hey, you're out of compliance, you can't do this no more. I never got a notice like that. So I'm just wondering, how can I get punished for something that I never even got an e-mail or a text or anything saying, hey, you're out of compliance, not even a phone call. JUDGE PEARSON: So the Commission does send	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20	arrives, if that is prior to the time when you have completed your conversations with these gentlemen, you can give me a call and I can come back into the hearing room and brief her on what her choices are and then we can proceed. So at this point, like I said, we'll take a recess. You'll have a chance to review the cease and desist orders and the language with Staff, and there'll be some negotiation about the penalty. Typically, a portion of the penalty is suspended, which is meant to deter you from future illegal operations. So you would pay a portion today, and the remaining portion of the $5,000 penalty would not become due and payable unless you violated the order at some point in the next two years. So hopefully, within the next hour to hour and a half, we'll have all your orders prepared and we'll then call each of you back up, make sure that you understand the order, and I will sign it on the record today, and you will leave here with a copy of it.

So just for the record, it looks like you have recommended, Ms. Banks, two violations in this case, one for offering a move, one for advertising. MS. BANKS: That is correct. JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. And you recommend suspending the entirety of the $5,000 penalty for a two-year period subject to the conditions that Ms. Bergman submits a complete application by close of business on October 23rd, 2015, and that the company refrains from further operations as a household goods carrier without first obtaining the required permit from the Commission.	2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15	prejudice. MS. BANKS: Thank you, Judge Pearson. JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. Anything further today? MS. BANKS: No, thank you. JUDGE PEARSON: All right. Then we will be off the record. Thank you. (Proceeding adjourned at 12:01 p.m.)
2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16	So did you have a chance to read the order? MS. BERGMAN: Yes, I did. JUDGE PEARSON: Okay. So just for the record, it looks like you have recommended, Ms. Banks, two violations in this case, one for offering a move, one for advertising. MS. BANKS: That is correct. JUDGE PEARSON: Okay.
