

BEFORE THE WASHINGTON UTILITIES AND TRANSPORTATION COMMISSION

RULEMAKING RELATED TO THE
MANDATORY DISTRIBUTION OF
WHITE PAGES DIRECTORIES BY LOCAL EXCHANGE CARRIERS IN
WAC 480-120-251(3).

Docket No. UT-120451

CENTURYLINK'S FOURTH REPLY
COMMENTS

- 1 CenturyLink hereby submits its comments on the proposed directory rule as requested in the Commission's Notice of December 20, 2012. The Commission provided notice of an opportunity to file written comments on a supplemental proposal (Supplemental CR-102) related to distribution of telephone books in WAC 480-120-251.
- 2 CenturyLink has one request/suggestion for a change in the language of the rule. This change would clarify that the LEC who is obligated to furnish a directory is the entity that determines how that obligation is to be met.
- 3 As currently written, the proposed directory rule states that a "LEC must ensure that each of its basic local exchange service customers has access to directory listings for the customer's local calling area through at least one of the following means:"
- 4 CenturyLink's recommendation would modify the language as follows: A LEC ~~must ensure that shall determine how~~ each of its basic local exchange service customers ~~has will receive~~ access to directory listings for the customer's local calling area ~~through using~~ at least one of the following means:

Respectfully submitted this 22nd day of January, 2013.
