.....)

BACKGROUND

- 1 On February 25, 2014, Kalama Telephone Company (Kalama or Company) filed with the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (Commission) a petition pursuant to WAC 480-07-875 and RCW 80.04.210 seeking to amend Order 01, which granted Kalama minimal regulation of bundled telecommunications services subject to conditions under RCW 80.36.332. Kalama requests that the Commission amend Order 01 to no longer require the Company’s officers to certify annually the Company’s compliance with that Order and RCW 80.36.332.
- 2 Staff supports Kalama’s request. Staff believes it has sufficient means to ensure compliance without Company officer annual certification, including the ability to audit the Company and review its tariffs.

DISCUSSION

- 3 The Commission required a Company officer annually to certify compliance with RCW 80.36.332 as a means to ensure the Company meets the more relaxed regulation that statute affords. We agree with Staff that such certification is no longer necessary and that the Commission has adequate means of monitoring and reviewing compliance with the statute and Order 01. We therefore grant the petition and amend the Order accordingly. Kalama remains subject to, and must continue to comply with, RCW 80.36.332 and all of the remaining requirements of Order 01.

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

- 4 (1) The Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission is an agency of the State of Washington vested by statute with the authority to regulate the rates, rules, regulations, and practices of public service companies, including telecommunications companies.

- 5 (2) Kalama is a telecommunications company and a public service company subject to Commission jurisdiction.
- 6 (3) This matter came before the Commission at its regularly scheduled meeting on March 27, 2014.
- 7 (4) The requirement in Order 01 that a Company officer annually certify compliance with that Order and RCW 80.36.332 is no longer necessary to ensure that Kalama complies with these legal obligations, and Order 01 should be amended to remove that officer certification requirement.
