Re: Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission v. Avista Corporation d/b/a Avista Utilities
Docket U-170970

TO ALL PARTIES:

On October 25, 2017, the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (Commission) entered Prehearing Conference Order; Notice of Hearing (PHC Order) in Docket U-170970. In the title of the PHC Order, the hearing date was listed as May 22, 2017, when in fact it will be held in 2018. The title should read as follows:

ORDER 02; PREHEARING CONFERENCE ORDER; NOTICE OF HEARING
(Set for May 22, 2018)

Additionally, in paragraph 4, Tyler Pepple of Davison Van Cleve, P.C. was erroneously listed as representing the Industrial Customers of Northwest Utilities (ICNU). Jesse E. Cowell and Patrick Oshie, also from Davison Van Cleve, P.C., represent ICNU in this docket.

Also, Appendix B, Procedural Schedule failed to note the agreed response times to data requests. The response time following Staff, Public Counsel, and Intervenor Response Testimony and Exhibits, due March 15, 2017, will be 7 business days, while the response time following Joint Applicants Rebuttal Testimony and Exhibits; Staff, Public Counsel, and Intervenor Cross-Answering Testimony and Exhibits, due April 25, 2018, will be 5 days.

Lastly, Jesse Gorsuch was omitted from the courtesy service list on behalf of ICNU. He should be served at jog@dvclaw.com.

Sincerely,

DENNIS J. MOSS
