Charlie,

I gave Shane the heads up on this. Do you want to meet up on Monday at some point to discuss the plan of action?

Thank you,

Hi Charlie and Kris,
Got the word about container delivery.
Please review the below. Would like to start getting the containers on February 10th.

Skyler Rachford will be your point of contact to position the containers and what not. His contact info is at the bottom of the email.

Thanks.

Subject: OCC BDI Rejects Dumpsters

All,

I would like to start receiving the BDI dumpsters next week so we have enough on-site for start-up on the 21st.

Sam: Lets have BDI start bring dumpsters on-site starting Wednesday 2/10/21 and have them stage the dumpsters in the areas shown in the first 3 pictures below.

I need these areas cleared around the OCC site so the dumpsters can be staged:

This pad needs to be cleared ASAP. This will be the primary staging location for the BDI dumpsters. We will need to find an alternate storage location for the transformers.

Clear by 2/10/21

Clear by 2/10/21

Olsson's area will need to be cleared eventually. They are still actively working in the plant so we will find alternate staging areas for dumpsters until this area is clear.

Thank you,

Skyler Rachford

Skylar,

Per our phone conversation, I have 2 open top 20yd containers scheduled for delivery for tomorrow. This will give you a total of 7 of the 20yd containers for your March 1st start date. Once we get a couple of hauls going we will have a better idea of the weight of the loads and at that time will have more containers in our inventory to send your way as needed.

Please let us know if you have any questions and have a great evening!

Thank you,

Charlie,

Our OPS Manager and Paper Machine Production Manager have been doing some brainstorming and they have some different ideas about handling of the waste stream coming out of the OCC plant. They would like to meet with you and your team to walk through their ideas and get your input. Would you and your team be available to come to the mill tomorrow sometime for a tour and discussion.

Please let me know your availability for either tomorrow or Monday, keeping in mind that we expect to start the process of feeding materials next week. so the sooner the better.

Thanks.

Our OPS Manager and Paper Machine Production Manager have been doing some brainstorming and they have some different ideas about handling of the waste stream coming out of the OCC plant. They would like to meet with you and your team to walk through their ideas and get your input. Would you and your team be available to come to the mill tomorrow sometime for a tour and discussion.

Please let me know your availability for either tomorrow or Monday, keeping in mind that we expect to start the process of feeding materials next week. so the sooner the better.

Kris,

Can we get another delivery set-up for dumpsters at the OCC Plant?

I would like to have 17 dumpsters on site before our Plant Start-Up on March 1st. We currently have 7 that have been delivered, so will need 10 more delivered to be allocated for process rejects. If you do not have any 20 yd dumpsters available, 30 yd will be acceptable.

Thanks,

Charlie,

I forgot to cc you on this. We are bringing 6 of the 20yd containers from Yakima today and will provide one that we have at the Pasco site. Hopefully this will be enough for their start date and they will wait to see what the haul and weight ratio is before wanting more containers delivered.

I'll keep you posted as things come up.

Kris,

The plant start-up has been pushed back to tomorrow or possibly Wednesday due to a few road blocks that needed to be addressed.

I appreciate you checking in. I will keep you updated on the plant start up date and our waste disposal needs.

Have a great day!

I discussed this with Shane and we have Matt, Yoyo and Mike that will be on site for this location to handle the hauls needed. I called Sam and the reason they have the increase in hauls is because for the initial startup they have to make frequent stops for leaks or problems. Every time they stop they empty the vat. Once this is running smoothly the number of hauls should go down. For now, I have an additional 5 hauls (this will give them a total of 10 hauls scheduled) for tomorrow. Sam will also contact me tomorrow to let me know if additional hauls are needed for Saturday and Monday.

I will keep you posted as I find things out.

Hi Sam,

Just to keep you in the loop, we pulled three trucks off of route to accommodate the extra hauls. However, when they arrived only 4 of the 14 containers were full.

I think it would be helpful to get my Route Manager and Dispatch connected with a specific contact on site so that the information does not have to flow through too many channels. We attempted to reach out to Sklyer but did not receive any call back.

Thanks,

Good morning!

We wanted to provide an update on where we are at with the haul, in regards to what was originally discussed and see if we can get some help on an issue that we are having.

As of Saturday we have provided the site with 19 twenty-yard drop boxes. The two (over the requested 17) were done to assist in the current problem. The issue is that the material coming out of the plant has too much water in it. Andy, our Route Manager, has been in constant contact with Kacey about our concerns. Is it possible to get the same group of folks together that showed us around the plant a month back together this morning with Andy to go over our concerns and look at the material on site together?

I appreciate your help with this!

Thanks,

Sam,

Thank you for your email. I will review with my folks and we will reach out.

As a reminder, there have continued to be instances where dumpsters are not able to be hauled because of their water content.

We have hired additional labor and are working to train them and move other labor around with the goal of having one truck and driver completely dedicated to this haul every evening, along with support during the day. We have also been adding additional labor on Saturday as needed.

We continue to adjust as necessary.

Thanks,
Charlie

Charlie and Kris,
Things are moving faster here at the OCC plant and we need your support to keep things running smoothly.

Please read the comments below and review the photo attached.

We need to have a solid plan from you around dumpster management. Skyler is asking to have more dumpsters emptied as a result of increased production.

Can you provide service to empty / replace 7-8 dumpsters per day and ensure that we have 10 empty dumpsters on site before going into Sunday.

Please review this request and information today and then let's plan on talking it through.

Sam/Mitch/Brian,

We've been running into some issues lately with BDI not keeping up with emptying the rejects dumpsters at OCC. There has been a few occasions where we have had to start dumping rejects on the ground on the south side of the OCC building and just let the rejects pile up against the building because we have no empty dumpsters to deposit the rejects.

This last weekend BDI did not empty enough dumpsters to get us through Sunday when BDI does not operate. At the start of day shift on Sunday (6:30 AM) we had already run out of dumpsters and had to spend the entire day piling the rejects in front of the south side of the building until this morning when BDI resumed hauling the dumpsters away (see the picture attached showing the resulting rejects pile).

We need to push BDI to stay on top of emptying these rejects dumpsters so this doesn't happen again on the future. I think right now they are scheduled to haul 5-6 dumpsters per day. We may need to increase that to 7-8 dumpster per day now that we are up and running at higher production rates. They also need them to ensure that at least 10 dumpsters are empty before going into Sunday so that we can get through the ~36 hour period when they are not servicing the area.

I appreciate your help on this and let me know if there's anything you need from me!

Good afternoon Kurt,

I just wanted to touch base with you in response to Skylar's email.

I looked at the total number of hauls from April 1st through the 24th and we averaged 8 hauls a day. We average 10-11 hauls on Saturday's, (these numbers do not reflect the containers we could have hauled if they weren't too wet).

As Charlie mentioned, we have hired a couple drivers and they are currently in training. One of which will be dedicated to this project. We have added additional drivers to our Saturday rotation to assist with the current volume.

I'm sure you understand that we had to see what this project was going to entail before adding an additional driver to our headcount. As soon as we saw the volume, we began recruiting for this project.

We are dedicated to our partnership with you.

Thank you,
Andy

Hi Kurt,

I hope all is well with you and your team as we head into the summer months.

Now that we have a few months of operation under our belts, I think now would be a good time to get together and talk about what is working with our service and what is not. I want to make sure the service we are providing is meeting current needs as well as the future. We are committed to our partnership together and are willing to do what it takes to have everything operate smoothly on the disposal side for years to come.

Let me know a few times that work for you in the coming weeks and we can meet onsite.

Thank you and have a great weekend!

Hi Skyler,

I wanted to keep you up to date on the proposal process. I am putting the final touches on a few plans, both for the short term and for the long term, to help solve our problem. Through this, two questions have popped up that I was wondering if I could get some help on?

1. What is the lead time and process to get a designated area onsite to be approved as a bunker/holding area?
2. What is the process/lead time to get onsite approval to bring in a loader and have one of our employees operate it?

Thanks,
Charlie

Sebright roll off box was 65% full after 6.17 hours. We were running slightly lower rates during this time so normally this box would fill up slightly faster. I'd say 5 hours would be a good change out frequency to start with.

9.74 tons of rejects were in the roll off box when weighed. Roll off box is 5.6 tons empty so total load was 15.3 tons. I'm guessing if we filled up the box all the way we'd get around 15 tons of rejects into it for a total load of about 20 tons.

Good morning,

Paul, thank you for your message last night.

I wanted to provide an update on the process and information we discussed the last time we met.

I am actively working with the WUTC (Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission) to get a rate approved for the trucking/bunker proposal. Being the regulated hauler for the area, we have to go through the approval process and vetting in order to start a new type of haul (equipment and material specific). As I have stated before, we are the only hauler allowed to dispose of the rejects which in turn means that our rate has to be analyzed and approved as reasonable by the commission. As soon as the rate is approved I will reach out with the proposal.

In regards to the compactors, I have reviewed the tests we have done with you guys (filling up the compactor and then weighing/dumping) and have a few open questions that we can discuss. My original plan was to present my findings for both scenarios in one packet so that we could come to a final conclusion.

Thanks,

Hi Paul,

I appreciate the opportunity to meet last week and further discuss this plan. As I have said from the beginning, we are here to service you in the best and more efficient way possible.

After our discussion, I have the following idea:

Compactor

- The compactor will require 24/7 service, this will take time to procure equipment, labor, and discussions with the transfer station. However, we can start hauling the compactor during regular operating hours. These hours would start around 6:00a and end around 9:00p.
- With the weight of the compactor, for the time being, we will make up for the lighter loads by increasing the frequency that we will haul the container. I anticipate a haul every 3 hours. This would put the hauls for the day around 5.
- Fifteen hours of work would mean the compactor would contain around 24 tons of material. The remaining 45-55 tons would then be put into the drop boxes under the current system.

Drop Box/Semi

- I would like to discuss the possibility of hauling the remaining 45-55 tons with a semi and belt trailer (like discussed in the proposal). I think this would increase the flexibility and efficiency of the disposal process, as well as save costs (see below).

	80 Total tons per day
	24 Tons compacted in 15 hours
	56 Tons remaining
	5 compactor Loads
	8 additional drop box loads
	or
	2 additional semi loads
Compactor + Drop Box [Daily]	$ 6,326.58
Compactor + Semi [Daily]	$ 5,111.91

Because 100% of the material will be captured in one of these two methods, Jammie's environmental will need to stop hauling the rejects to the landfill immediately. As discussed, under the UTC tariff, we are the only authorized hauler.

Give me a call and we can discuss.

Thanks,

Charlie Dietrich

Paul,

I wanted to again follow up. At the very least, use of the compactor during the day with the residual going into drop boxes. This would allow thorough vetting of the compactor system for your team and mine.

Charlie,

Couple of things here regarding OCC:

- We are not planning on using the compactor. Our plan is to stick with what we are currently doing.
- In regards to your assertion that Jammies is illegally hauling our waste, that is between you and Jammies. Jammies has hauled waste for other mill operations and brought us a plan that was significantly less expensive, more efficient, and much safer for our employees than what you were offering. Prior to getting ideas from Jammies, we brought you out to the mill and asked for better and cheaper ways of hauling the waste and we did not hear any ideas from BDI. Frankly, Jammies has earned this business. I believe you are required to be competitive in your pricing and service and in this case of hauling OCC rejects, there is no doubt you were not.

I know this sounds all negative toward BDI, but overall we have been happy with the other trash hauling BDI performs for the mill. I just wanted to state the facts as we see them in regards to OCC rejects.

Hi Skyler,

Maybe you can help me out:

A while back it was discussed and requested (by PCA) to start using the compactor to haul the OCC rejects. The details for a quick set-up would be:

The compactor will require 24/7 service, this will take time to procure equipment, labor, and discussions with the transfer station. However, we can start hauling the compactor during regular operating hours. These hours would start around 6:00a and end around 9:00p.

With the weight of the compactor, for the time being, we will make up for the lighter loads by increasing the frequency that we will haul the container. I anticipate a haul every 3 hours. This would put the hauls for the day around 5.

Fifteen hours of work would mean the compactor would contain around 24 tons of material. The remaining 45-55 tons would then be put into the drop boxes under the current system.

The alternative to the drop boxes would be using a semi and belt trailer to go straight to the Landfill.

Currently I am aware of the diversion of material from our DropBoxes to the Jammie's environmental, whom is illegally hauling the waste to the landfill. As a partnership we need to resolve this as quickly as possible.

Any help in the matter you can provide would be appreciated.

Thanks,

Charlie Dietrich

Richard,

If my memory serves me right, you mentioned that BDI would be able to haul PCA OCC rejects in a similar manner as Jammies (big truck straight to the landfill). Could you give us a quote for this type of service and BDI handling all of our rejects. I am guessing you will have questions – please direct them to Kasey Markland, she is copied on this email.

Thank you.

Re: OCC Rejects - Disposal

To whom it may concern:

Thank you for the continued opportunity to discuss the various options of disposal for the material produced at the PCA processing plant. The partnership Basin Disposal has with PCA has been a rewarding one.

We have assembled a quote to haul the OCC rejects from your site in Wallula to the Finley Buttes Regional landfill in Boardman, Oregon. This haul will be regulated and fall under the jurisdiction of the UTC under the Basin Disposal Tariff. While this stipulation requires that Basin Disposal performs the haul and disposes of the waste, it is also required to only charge a vetted and analyzed price based on the service and the reasonableness of the charge.

Upon acceptance of this proposal, we will work to establish applicable target dates and begin procuring equipment.

Sincerely,

Basin Disposal, Inc.

CONCLUSION

---

The use of a refuse trailer and semi will allow us to save you money, as well as be more flexible as the demand for the material may adjust.
