

GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

Rule 17. Curtailment Discount: Firm Service Curtailment.

If any Non-Residential Firm Service Customer is curtailed under the rules of this Tariff, Customer shall receive a Discount on bills for gas taken during the twelve billing months ending June (the Annual Period) within which a Curtailment occurs. (T)

The Curtailment Discount shall be calculated as the difference between the sum of the bills actually rendered in the Annual Period and the sum of bills which would have been rendered in such Annual Period had customer been served under the Interruptible Service option of their Rate Schedule, or for Schedule 3, under the Interruptible Sales option on RATE SCHEDULE 41, and received identical monthly quantities, multiplied by the ratio of the number of "100% Equivalent Days" of curtailment experienced by customer in such Annual Period to the average number of "100% Equivalent Days" of curtailment experienced by the applicable Interruptible Service Customer in the same period. (C)

A 100% Equivalent Day of curtailment is defined as a 24-hour period during which customer's supply under the applicable Rate Schedule is curtailed in its entirety. (C)

In the event of partial Curtailment, where customer's entire supply is curtailed for part of a full day, the partial Curtailment will equal such fractional part of a 100% Equivalent Day as the number of hours of Curtailment bears to 24 hours.

In the event of partial Curtailment, where part of customer's supply is curtailed for a full day, the partial Curtailment will equal such fractional part of a 100% Equivalent Day as the volume of gas remaining available to the customer during such day bears to customer's MDDV.

The Curtailment Discount shall be applied as a credit, until extinguished, on customer's bills commencing with the terminal month of the Annual Period.

The Curtailment Discount shall not be granted when curtailment is due to Force Majeure conditions.
