

CenturyLink has deposited $30 million into an escrow account. The total amount of the commitment to invest one-third of the overall $80 million broadband commitment in unserved and underserved areas is $26.67 million. The difference between the current balance of the escrow account and the one-third commitment is $3.33 million.

CenturyLink states that it spent a total of $57,417,634 on broadband projects towards its $80 million broadband commitment to Washington in 2011. Of that amount, the Company asserts that it spent $18,113,482 on projects to meet the unserved / underserved commitment.

Figure 1 below depicts how CenturyLink spent the $18 million, based on information provided by the Company in this Docket.¹ The data Figure 1 is based on can be found on pages 4 and 5 of this Highly Confidential Exhibit B, and is arranged from lowest beginning broadband availability to highest.
