RE: HOUSEHOLD GOODS RULE MAKING SESSION

Thank you for your timely notice, dated November 5th, 1997, concerning a rule making session for stake-holders operating in the regulated spectrum of household goods carriers.

As a non-regulated entity, in the cities of Edmonds, Mountlake Terrace, and Mercer Is., my customers enjoy substantial discounts when jobs are performed in their "so called" local cartage 'zones'. The fact that I am permitted to serve this customer base makes myself, and my associates, stake-holders relative to these proceedings.

Since the major portion of the public we service is upper middle class, WASP, we wonder who is servicing the other part of the economic spectrum? Meanwhile, the other sector we service are also WASP's (senior citizens, single parents, and the handicapped), all of which are stake-holders and who would prefer a discount.

Believe it or not, the W.U.T. Commissions' job is to protect the public, not the industry. Therefore, I present the following recommendations, added as an addendum to this notice concerning household goods moving, which are attached hereto to the Commission times ten (10).

Through it's Secretary, Steve McLellan.

DATED THIS 1ST DAY OF DECEMBER, 1997.
