Dear Commissioners,

You are to be commended for shutting down the two worst of the polluting coal-fired power plants in Colstrip, MT. Now let's continue on with eliminating all fossil fuel-fired plants and converting totally to renewables ---- starting not a decade in the future, but now. There is incredible potential for wind and solar in Washington and the PNW. This region could easily become the largest exporter of clean sustainable electric power in the country. And it will create thousands of skilled jobs in the process. All you have to do is align your priorities properly. Let's go.

Sincerely,

Fred Sayer, a long-term PSE rate payer
