Mr. Smysor,

Thank you for the information. I'm sorry that the business did not work out as planned. I've forwarded your e-mail to our Licensing Section. If they require more information from you to cancel your operating permit, they will let you know.
Good luck to you.

Hello

Melissa and I have decided that the current economic situation would cause us to fail sooner or later. When we first started this company the recession was supposed to be shallow, but that is not the case. Now with the Health Care in the works with extra business taxes, and new regulations on carbon dioxide from the EPA and other environmental regulations with its business taxes we had to decide whether to go out of business now or go out of business later. Our accountant is helping us with the taxes and fees we owe, so we will be taking care of that. Our decision is we are going out of business because we will be forced out by additional taxes in the future. We still cannot get a business loan, housing market is still soft, gas prices will skyrocket in the early summer with the new environmental rules. Just too many things working against us.

I do want to thank the UTC for all your help. Of all the government agencies we had to work with, the UTC was most helpful.

Thank you,

Kenneth L Smysor
