I Gary Van Laar am the sole owner and operator of Westside Waste Container Services LLC. With the encouragement of a local business in my hometown of Arlington WA S & S Roofing I started this business because he was dissatisfied with the quality and ability with the current company, he was using to supply him with containers to remove his construction debris from jobsites. I found a local company interested in selling me its hook truck and containers that had been in business for quite some time called CCS (Construction Container Services). After communication with Katie Hancock and Mike Dodson with the UTC office, I acquired the USDOT and Common Carrier Number which they both said is what I needed to provide the service I would be providing hauling construction debris from construction jobsites. Once I was up and running my business, I kept servicing roughly four of the five customers that had previously been serviced thru CCS. Construction companies BDZ, Gaffney and a couple other smaller construction companies to name a few. S & S roofing and these companies are extremely grateful to have my company and the services I provide to them offering container pick-ups evening's, weekends and the flexibility to pick up and drop off on short notice within less than 24 hours, a service they were not able to be provided from companies they had dealt with in my area prior to using Westside Waste Construction Containers LLC. Shane the owner of S & S Roofing of Arlington Washington was the most excited and has been my best and happiest customer to date. He no longer has issues of numerous accidents causing damage to his customers homes and driveways resulting in angry and dissatisfied customers and the constant battle to find a container service on weekends and short notice. I am now being told that my company is no longer in compliance with the changes made and I need to apply for this Solid Waste Certificate. I look forward to getting this certificate and continue with my business and servicing my many satisfied customers.

Thanks,

Gary Van Laar Owner/Operator of Westside Waste Container Services LLC
