Insurance Policy Verification for your Non-Profit Bus Certificate

State law requires your company to file and maintain proof of public liability and property damage insurance to maintain a certificate to operate in Washington. Our records show your company has an insurance policy on file with the state of Washington that is more than five years old and may no longer be active. Current and active proof-of-insurance must be on file to keep the certificate active. Please contact your insurance agent or broker and have them file a current Form E for your Commercial Auto Liability policy.

The most recent policy on file for your Non-Profit Bus Certificate: NPC001060

AMERICAN ALTERNATIVE INSURANCE CORPORATION, N1A2RL000001308, 6/1/2017

If there is a more current policy, contact your insurance company to send us proof of insurance (Form E) for your current policy. Make sure that the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission is shown as the certificate holder, or we cannot accept it.

The commission may cancel a certificate if a carrier does not file proof that insurance is in full force and effect (WAC 480-31-052\(2\)\(a\)). If your company does not respond, the commission may cancel your permit.

Where should my insurance agent send the current policy (Form E)?
