So there are two options today. So option A is to agree to cease and desist operating as an unpermitted household goods carrier. If you choose this option, you must agree to stop providing, offering, or advertising unpermitted household goods services unless or until you receive a household goods permit from the Commission.

If you choose this option, you will need to show what you have done to shut down your business either completely or partially, and I'm going to want to see proof that you're no longer operating or advertising.

If you were operating without a permit but have since applied for and obtained a permit in advance of that hearing, please let me know when I call you up. In that case, you can continue to operate so long as you maintain your permit, but Staff will want you to agree that you will stop operating if you lose that permit.

Okay. So that was option A. Option B is to ask for a classification hearing, and you would choose option B if you believe that you are not operating illegally and that your business is not subject to regulation from the Commission. In other words, you'd Page 7

And if you choose option A, that is to testify how you're going to comply with the household goods carrier laws and rules, whether by getting out of the business or by maintaining your permit, you can explain how you plan to do that. And depending on what proof you can provide, you may be given an opportunity to meet with Staff during the break to negotiate an agreed order to resolve this matter. The agreed order will also deal with the penalty.

So you were each served with a complaint that asked the Commission to penalize you for engaging in business as a household goods carrier without a permit. The law sets the maximum penalty at $5,000 per violation. Staff will recommend a penalty, and you will have a chance to reach agreement with Staff about the penalty amount. If you're unable to agree, Staff will explain the recommendation, but the Commission will make the final decision about the penalty amount.

And finally, if you choose option B, that is you're denying that you're operating as a household goods mover, we will schedule another hearing. And in that case, it would help if you know your schedule for the next month or two so we can choose a hearing date.

So, Staff, I'll swear you in now. (Brian Braun sworn.)

be denying that you offer or advertised household goods services.

So if you choose this option, we will schedule a formal evidentiary hearing where you will be required to present proof that your business is not within the regulatory jurisdiction of the Commission. And the hearing will be set in the next two months with a deadline a week before the hearing for both you and Commission Staff to list your witnesses and file any exhibits. So I have some dates available. We'd be looking at the end of March, beginning of April, or possibly into May.

So Brian Braun will be speaking for Commission Staff this morning. If you have not already met Mr. Braun, he is seated at the table to my right. He is a Commission compliance investigator.

So now that we've gone over your choices, I will explain what else will happen this morning. So in a few minutes, I will call you up here to make your choice, and at that time, I will swear you in so that anything you tell the Court will be under oath. And once you're sworn in, I will ask if you understand your choices for today's hearing and ask you to state your choice. If there's anything else you want to explain to me at this time, you will have a chance to do that.
