Re: UG-210831—2022 Annual Energy Efficiency Report on NW Natural's Energy Efficiency Program

Northwest Natural Gas Company, dba NW Natural (NW Natural or the Company) hereby files the 2022 Annual Conservation Report on the Company's Energy Efficiency program. This report is submitted in compliance with the Company's 2022 Energy Efficiency Plan, which was filed in docket UG-210831. The Commission accepted the Company's two-year conservation acquisition target in Order 01 of that docket.

In 2022, the Company's Energy Efficiency program for residential and commercial customers saved 395,714 therms at a cost of $3.3 million. The Washington Low-Income Energy Efficiency program saved 2,581 therms at a cost of $73,064. In addition, the Northwest Energy Efficiency Alliance natural gas market transformation effort saved 32,175 therms at a cost of $88,148. The Company's share of the Regional Technical Forum was $10,600.

Per BEEP Condition 6c, NW Natural states that the Company shared with the Energy Efficiency Advisory Group (EEAG) a draft of the 2022 results at the second quarter EEAG call on May 24, 2023, and provided a draft of the 2022 Annual Energy Efficiency Report with the EEAG on May 15, 2023.
