PSE Data Request No. 002 to The Energy Project:

Please reference the Response Testimony of Mr. Shawn Collins, Exh. SMC-1T, at page 11, lines 13 through 17. Please confirm that the proposed increase in low-income energy efficiency funding of $250,000 “per year” would, all other things being equal, result in a constant level of low-income energy efficiency funding. In other words, please confirm that The Energy Project is not proposing to increase low-income energy efficiency funding, for example, $250,000 in 2018, $500,000 in 2019 and so on.

RESPONSE:

The Energy Project confirms that the proposed increase in low-income energy efficiency funding of $250,000 “per year” would, all other things being equal, result in a constant level of low-income energy efficiency funding going forward at the higher level. As explained in Exhibit SMC-1T, footnote 24 on page 11, “[t]he current funding level includes the $500,000 proposed to continue by Mr. Piliaris. That would remain in effect. The Energy Project proposal of $250,000 would be additional to that.” The Energy Project is not proposing to increase low-income energy efficiency by an additional increment of $250,000 every subsequent year (for example, $250,000 in 2018, $500,000 in 2019 and so on).
