Subject: Thank you for protecting WA's Clean Energy Future

Dear Washington UTC,

We can no longer trust that "investor led" companies will do the right and moral thing. Their bottom line is far more important to them than the populace. Watchdogs are an important means to try to keep them honest. An important question to ask is why are they advocating the change to the planning sessions? Four years is far too long to correct any missteps they may have made. Please do not make this change.

This is a comment for Docket # UE 190698.

As a Washington State ratepayer, I am strongly in support of effective public accountability and engagement for investor-owned utilities. I am excited for Washington's Clean Energy Transformation Act (CETA) to take effect, and appreciate your role in making sure that the implementation of this law delivers on its intended vision of a state powered by 100% clean energy.

With that in mind, I would like to make a comment on the importance of public participation in energy planning. Integrated Resource Plans have been a powerful tool for public input here in Washington State, and it has allowed customers to advocate for clean, transparent, and equitable energy decisions. These planning sessions are one of the few oversight and watchdog opportunities we get. Please keep the requirement that they happen every two years rather than every four, as proposed.

As a ratepayer and concerned resident, I thank you for representing my interests and making sure utilities are accountable to the public.

Sincerely,

Barb Kuchno
