Thanks, Jeff. This case is too important in my view for Staff to sit it out, so I hope you will actually urge them to participate. Either way, enjoy your trip and stay safe!

Afternoon Blair,

I don't want to leave you hanging before heading out on vacation. I think all the relevant people from Staff are out of the office today, but, again, I can tell you that I've heard nothing about Staff reconsidering its involvement in the Jammie's case. I'll make sure talking to Staff and making sure that I'm right about that is on my list for when I get back from the East Coast.

Best,
Jeff

I'm disappointed to hear that and am hoping you hear otherwise! At least on the complaint issues, I would have hoped that Staff would weigh in, particularly because it appears that Jammie's intends to improperly argue that Kathryn McPherson's informal opinion email provided legal justification to perform a solid waste haul without a certificate. Also, considering her subsequent investigation, I thought Ms. McPherson would be able to add information beneficial to the proceeding as a witness.

Hello Blair,

As far as I know Staff isn't planning on participating in the Jammie's matter, which means that no one from my office would be participating either. I'll ask around, confirm that, and get back to you.

Best,
Jeff

Hi Jeff,

I am happy to forward any notice we receive on the appeal. On a semi-related note, I had been meaning to reach out and inquire as to whether staff was intending to participate in the consolidated dockets of Basin's complaint and Jammie's Environmental's certificate application case. As far as I am aware, nobody for Staff appeared at the pre-hearing conference, but we assumed there would be representation of Staff by the AG's office in the complaint case. Do you know who is going to be assigned that matter?

Enjoy your vacation!

Best,

-Blair

Hello Msrs. Wiley and Fassburg,

I'm on vacation next week and largely away from email. This gets problematic because the Court of Appeals won't let us add anyone else to their email distribution list. If the court sends out a notice next week in the Waste Management docket, it should land on one of your desks. Could you make sure Harry knows about it?

Thank you!

Jeff
