WUTC Data Request 112

COS/Rate Spread/Rate Design - Did the company examine other cost alternatives in order to keep the residential basic charge affordable to the customers in the residential class? If yes, please provide any studies and cite all exhibits or workpapers. If not, please explain why the company did not consider alternative cost recovery for the residential basic charge.

Response to WUTC Data Request 112

The Company thinks that the proposed basic charge of $10 per month for single-family customers is affordable for the residential class. The Company has not prepared an alternative.
