Dear Kimberly Harris: ^{CEO} Puget Sound Energy

I recently moved from the San Francisco Bay Area to Bainbridge Island and am now a PSE customer. I was surprised to learn that roughly 30% of our electricity is generated from burning coal, which hasn't been used in ^{California} a long time. Thank you for committing to retire the two dirtiest boilers at the Colstrip coal plant. But now we need to take the next step, of ^{scheduling the} retirement of the remaining two ~~boilers~~ boilers and ~~planning a transition~~ and replacing with electricity generated from 100% clean, renewable energy such as wind and solar. Natural gas as an intermediate step would be a huge mistake and a huge missed opportunity. ~~Best~~ Regards,
Steve Richard
