Dear PSE CEO Kimberly Harris,

Retiring two dirty boilers is fantastic! Hooray!
Now, let's go all the way and make the Pacific Northwest a model for the rest of the country and retire the final coal plant. It's time to transition fully to 100% renewable energy.

A clean energy economy will be a boon to our region economically and enhance the health of local folks in the Colstrip area, the region, and the world.

You could be a leader in developing new jobs for the Colstrip community that support healthy lives and a healthy planet.

I am a PSE customer from Port Orchard, Washington. I treasure the beauty of our natural world and I treasure my dream of a healthy future for my children, their children, and future generations. 30% of energy from coal is unacceptable to me. That 30% contributes to climate change which threatens immeasurable harm to much that I (and you, I imagine) hold dear. Please be part of climate solutions.

Sincerely,
Kathy Campbell
