Dear Puget Sound CEO Kimberly Harris,

Thank you so much for committing to retire two of the Colstrip coal units by 2022. I strongly encourage you to also take steps to shut down the entire operation at the same time. Additionally, the ethical and moral decision is to replace them with 100 percent renewable energy sources and not natural gas.

We are proud residents of the beautiful Pacific Northwest and we love raising our boys here. However, Carbon has no border and the coal industry that Puget Sound Energy supports adds CO<sub>2</sub> into the air that my family breathes. I have taken on climate action as I want to provide a world where my children and future generations can thrive and prosper. You are in a position to be a change-agent for global climate health. By moving away from coal quicker, you will also move towards Seattle and King County's goals of going 100% renewable by 2025.

We really appreciate your commitment to the residents of PSE and hope that you can offer them clean energy very soon!

Cheers, Dana B. J.
