

WUTC Data Request 158

Power Costs - WUTC Data Request 135 requested certain model runs that included “Corrections to model inputs that the Company has acknowledged.” It appears from PacifiCorp’s response to WUTC Data Request 153 that on or soon after July 27, 2023, the Company became aware that Washington net power costs (NPC) would be impacted by the removal of the Ozone Transport Rule from all Company plants.

- (a) Please identify any other material issues that the Company has become aware of that it acknowledges would have an effect on Washington NPC but are not addressed in its filed NPC.
- (b) Please provide revised responses to WUTC Data Request 135 also considering the removal of the Ozone Transport Rule from all Company plants as well as any other material issues identified in response to subpart (a) in each portion of the Company’s responses to WUTC Data Request 135 that considers Company-acknowledged corrections to Aurora model inputs.

2nd Supplemental Response to WUTC Data Request 158

The Company continues to object to this request to the extent it is unduly burdensome, unreasonably cumulative, or duplicative, and requesting analysis not performed by the Company. Notwithstanding the foregoing objection, the Company responds as follows:

Further to the Company’s prior responses to WUTC Data Request 158, the Company now provides the following additional information:

- (a) Incremental to the Company’s 1st Supplemental response to WUTC Data Request 158, material issues that affect Washington net power costs (NPC):
 - 7. Coal volume and price changes.
 - 8. Power and gas market price changes.
 - 9. Updates to short term firm contracts for power and gas.
 - 10. Updates to long term firm contracts for power and gas.
- (b) Please refer to the confidential work papers supporting the rebuttal testimony of Company witness, Ramon J. Mitchell for the isolated impacts of the below issues relative to the NPC update provided in Ramon Mitchell’s rebuttal testimony.
