GLOBALSTAR

The Globalstar system is made up of 48 LEO (Low Earth Orbit) Satellites, earth-based gateways and tri-mode phones. The LEO satellites orbit only 850 miles above the earth. This allows the user to carry on a conversation with no noticeable delay. All Globalstar call processing takes place in gateways, which are easy to repair, maintain and upgrade since they are all earth-based. Globalstar handheld phones uses CDMA technology and operate in three different modes: satellite, digital and analog. Globalstar handheld phones have no large carrying case or antenna attached. They are completely mobile, just like a cell phone.
