Response to questions regarding customer service and business practices and industry experience:

Gentle Giant Moving Company (West), LLC would like to apply for the "Transfer or Acquisition of Control" of Cavlogix Corp. dba TempStore Moving Company's regulatory Authority. Gentle Giant will not only be purchasing the assets of this business, but also keeping on the existing Operating Management.

Gentle Giant was founded in 1980 and incorporated in 1985 and is the premier residential and commercial moving company on the East Coast. With regional offices in Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, Rhode Island, and Virginia, Gentle Giant offers local, interstate, and international moves. The company has grown to include storage services, packing material delivery through its Box Xpress service, a full art and furniture restoration service, and a senior move management service known as Hands of Change.

The goal of the company has always been to provide full-service moving "by the greatest team of movers ever assembled," with "no questions asked" customer service, with the mission of making every customer a customer for life. The company takes the "Gentle" part of its name very seriously and does everything possible to ensure a safe, effective, hassle-free move. While this was actually a new concept in the moving industry when Gentle Giant was founded, it has since become the norm, spawning numerous imitators.

Gentle Giant has historically been a leader in the area of Customer Service and Business Practices and has pledged to deliver the highest quality service in the moving industry. Through our enthusiasm and zeal for challenges we strive to exceed even our customers' unexpressed wishes and needs and in doing so, earn their lifelong trust. A fundamental component of Gentle Giant's mission is making every customer a "customer for life". Gathering feedback continuously from customers about their Gentle Giant experience is essential to this goal. Following a move, our crew chiefs present customers with a customer comment card. The comment card asks the customer to rate the quality of their entire Gentle Giant experience in detail, from the initial inquiry to the moment the truck leaves the customers new home. This feedback helps us to develop our employees into exceptional leaders, as well as to strengthen our business

Gentle Giant has won numerous awards for our customer service and company practices. It is our desire to put forth a product/service in which the consumer will, if anything, gain and improved product and accompanying services as a result of this transfer of Authority.

Gentle Giant feels that the Transfer/Acquisition of Control is necessary to ensure a smooth transition from the current owner to the new applicant as there will be a continuation of the major aspects and functions of the business including employees and services. The customers will still be afforded the same (and anticipated improved) quality of services with the ability to deal directly with the company.

We are working closely with the existing and ongoing management to integrate the two companies' policies and procedures; with specific attention to regulatory, safety and service.
