BACKGROUND

- 1 On January 9, 2015, the Washington State Department of Transportation (WSDOT or Petitioner) filed a petition with the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (Commission) seeking approval to modify a railroad-highway grade crossing at State Route 25 (SR-25) in Stevens county. WSDOT proposes to install active advance warning signs and upgrade the train detection.
- 2 Kettle Falls International Railway, LLC (Kettle Falls) consented to entry of an Order by the Commission without further notice or hearing.
- 3 SR-25 is a two-lane rural minor arterial roadway with a posted speed limit of 55 miles per hour. Average annual daily traffic through the crossing is estimated at 820 vehicles. SR-25 is a designated truck route which includes 19.3 percent commercial motor vehicles and up to four school bus trips per day.
- 4 Kettle Falls currently maintains one mainline track at this location. The authorized speed limit for freight trains is 25 miles per hour and one freight train operates over the crossing on a daily basis. No passenger trains operate over the crossing.
- 5 Railroad warning devices at the SR-25 crossing consist of shoulder-mounted lights, crossbucks, pavement markings, and advance warning signs.
- 6 WSDOT is proposing to replace the advance warning signs with active advance warning signs that will be constantly illuminated with LED lights. The active advance warning signs will provide a higher level of warning to drivers of an upcoming highway-rail grade crossing. In addition, WSDOT proposes to upgrade the train detection from DC circuitry to constant warning. Improvements to the crossing are funded by the United States Department of Transportation, Federal Highway Administration, Railroad Highways Crossings Section 130 program.

7 The proposed upgrades are in the interest of improving safety and convenience for roadway and pedestrian users.
