Qwest' Revised AFOR Proposal

- Provisions:
  - 1. For the period of the AFOR, Qwest will be subject to the same regulation as those companies who are competitively classified pursuant to RCW 80.36.320, subject to certain exceptions and certain transition period requirements.<sup>1</sup>
  - 2. The terms of this AFOR will be effective upon approval by the Commission and will remain in effect for 4 years, or longer if authorized by the commission.
    - a) No less than six months prior to the 4-year anniversary of the AFOR, Qwest will file information on its financial condition as set forth in Exhibit 1 to this AFOR agreement.
    - b) During the 6 months prior to the 4 year anniversary of the AFOR, Qwest and the Commission's Staff will conduct a review of the provisions of this AFOR to determine if changing market conditions warrant modifications to the plan.
    - c) During the course of that review any of the parties to this AFOR settlement may propose or oppose modifications. Upon conclusion of the review but not later than the 4-year anniversary the Commission will provide notice to the parties and hold a proceeding in which parties may advocate for or against proposed modifications.
    - d) While the Commission deliberates, the terms of this AFOR shall continue in force.
  - 3. Qwest expressly agrees that if the Commission determines, after an appropriate proceeding, to revoke the previously-granted competitive classification for Qwest's DS-1 or DS-3 private line services, Qwest will not contend that the provisions of this AFOR nonetheless require those services to be treated as competitively classified. In such instance, the parties reserve their rights to advocate that an appropriate mechanism be established to ensure that rates for such services are fair, just and reasonable.

&lt;sup>1</sup> The following statutes (and any associated rules and regulations) are waived for competitive telecommunications companies pursuant to RCW 80.36.320: RCW 80.04.300 (Budgets to be filed by companies -- Supplementary budgets); RCW 80.04.310 (Commission's control over expenditures); RCW 80.04.320 (Budget rules); RCW 80.04.330 (Effect of unauthorized expenditure -- Emergencies); RCW 80.04.360 (Earnings in excess of reasonable rate -- Consideration in fixing rates); RCW 80.04.460 (Investigation of accidents); RCW 80.04.520 (Approval of lease of utility facilities); RCW 80.36.100 (Tariff schedules to be filed and open to public); RCW 80.36.110 (Tariff changes -- Statutory notice -- Exception); Chapter 80.08 RCW (Securities) (except RCW 80.08.140, State not obligated); Chapter 80.12 RCW (Transfers of property); Chapter 80.16 RCW (Affiliated interests).

- 4. Qwest will provide a plan for broadband infrastructure development aimed at deploying high speed internet (DSL) services in its Washington wire centers that currently do not offer DSL.<sup>2</sup> At the end of the AFOR, for the review process, Qwest will file a report on the broadband infrastructure development informing the commission about Qwest's progress in deploying the infrastructure plan.
- Exceptions:
  - 1. This AFOR does not address the commission's authority to regulate Qwest's wholesale obligation under the Telecommunications Act of 1996, nor does it address existing carrier-to-carrier service quality requirements, including service quality standards or performance measures for interconnection and appropriate enforcement or remedial provisions in the event Qwest fails to meet service quality standard or performance measures.
  - 2. Provision No. 1 of this AFOR does not apply to the following services:

i. Public Access Line Service

- 3. Qwest will provide service quality reporting consistent with the 'Class A' company reporting requirements in WAC 480-120-439 (1). Qwest will modify its current service quality report such that it complies with WAC 480-120-439, but provides a level of reporting detail consistent with that provided by other Class A companies. Specifically, Qwest's monthly service quality reporting detail will be consistent with that provided by Verizon, CenturyTel, and Embarq. Qwest will continue filing customer service guarantee reports in accordance with the Seventeenth Supplemental Order in Docket No. UT-991358, albeit annually rather than monthly.
- Transition Period Requirements:

The following requirements will apply during a 4 year transition period:

- 1. The standalone residential exchange service recurring rate is capped at $14.50 during the transition period. Qwest may not increase the standalone residential exchange service recurring rate by more than $.50 in any year of the 4 year transition period. Qwest is only allowed any such increases if it commits to leaving the Customer Service Guarantee Program (WN U-40, Section 2.2.2 B) under tariff for the initial 4 years of the AFOR.
- 2. Notwithstanding that Qwest's digital business services, analog private line services, and residential exchange service features and packages will be treated as competitively classified services in accordance with #1 above (Provisions), Qwest agrees not to geographically de-average the non-recurring and monthly recurring rates for these services. This provision does not modify or restrict Qwest's ability to enter into individual contracts for service that specify rates other than statewide average rates.
- 3. Qwest will keep its books of accounts in accordance with WAC 480-120-355. The accounting method that Qwest commits to use is the same accounting method (the MR basis of accounting) that it uses to maintain its books for FCC accounting and reporting purposes (its MR books). When, in accordance with 47 CFR 32.16, Qwest informs the FCC of its intention to follow a new accounting standard Qwest shall also file notice of intent with the Commission. Qwest will provide available information concerning the new accounting standard as requested by Staff. If the FCC does not accept the new accounting standard, it shall be deemed unacceptable to the Commission. If the FCC accepts the new accounting standard then it shall be deemed acceptable to the Commission unless Staff opens a docket to investigate adoption of the new accounting standard within 30 days of its acceptance by the FCC or 120 days of Qwest's filing of its notice of intent, whichever is later. If the FCC changes accounting methods used in 47 CFR Part 32, Staff may open a docket to investigate the changes to determine whether such methods are acceptable to the Commission.

- 4. Notwithstanding #1 above (Provisions), which would allow Owest to file an annual report in accordance with WAC 480-120-382, Qwest shall continue to file an annual report in accordance with WAC 480-120-385(1). In addition, Owest shall file an annual report of Washington intrastate regulated results of operations. The report shall be based on Owest's MR Books and shall include the following adjustments:
  - a directory revenue credit in the amount specified by the settlement agreement • the Commission approved in the Dex case;
  - a credit to its depreciation reserve required for prior sale of rural exchanges;<sup>4</sup> •
  - a credit to its depreciation reserve for sharing under a prior AFOR;<sup>5</sup> and •
  - a standing adjustment reflecting the difference in rate base between its MR Books and its Washington Jurisdictional Books of Account (JR Books) on the date of transition from JR books to MR Books.

Also, in addition to the four adjustments listed above. Owest shall maintain the capability of calculating the following Commission Basis Adjustments that it included in its quarterly financial reports to the Commission for 2006:

- Pension Asset •
- Post-Retirement Benefits •
- Disallowed Plant •
- Interest Synchronizations • End-of-Period Deferred Income Tax
- 5. Notwithstanding #1 above (Provisions), Qwest will continue to file annual reports of affiliated interest transactions, cash transfer filings, and to file transfer of property transactions greater than ten percent of its rate base for the initial 4 years of the AFOR. In addition, Qwest agrees that it will abide by RCW 80.08.030 regarding the use of funds.
- 6. Notwithstanding #1 above (Provisions), waiver of certain financial regulatory oversights are maintained or waived as follows:
