) TAX

BACKGROUND

- 1 Under RCW 82.14B.030(5),(6) and (7) a state enhanced 911 excise tax is imposed on all switched access lines, radio access lines, and interconnected Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) service lines in the state. The amount of the tax may not exceed twenty-five cents per month for each switched access line, radio access line or interconnected VoIP service line. Local exchange telecommunications companies providing or reselling these services, companies providing radio access lines, as well as interconnected VoIP providers are required to remit the tax to the Department of Revenue and the treasurer must deposit the tax in an enhanced 911 account.

- 2 RCW 82.14B.030 requires that the state enhanced 911 coordinator, the Emergency Management Division (EMD) of the State’s Military Department, recommend to the Commission the appropriate level of tax, based on a systematic cost and revenue analysis. EMD makes its recommendation annually by August 31, and the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission (Commission) must determine the level of the state enhanced 911 excise tax for the following year by the following October 31, 2012.

- 3 On August 21, 2012, the EMD filed a petition with the Commission recommending that the Commission set the rate of enhanced 911 excise tax at twenty-five cents per month for switched access lines, radio access lines and interconnected VoIP service lines for calendar year 2013.

- 4 Commission Staff has reviewed the filing and agrees with EMD’s request that twenty-five cents per month per switched access line, radio access line and interconnected VoIP service line is necessary to recover enhanced 911 costs and should be approved.

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

- 5 (1) On August 31, 2012, the Military Department, Emergency Management Division, filed with the Commission its annual report of revenues, expenditures, and budgets relating to the statewide provision of 911 services. The Emergency Management Division recommended an assessment of the excise tax at the monthly rate of twenty-five cents per switched access line, radio access line and interconnected VoIP line in accordance with RCW 82.14B.030 for the year beginning January 1, 2013.
- 6 (2) The Commission agrees with Staff's recommendation and finds that a state enhanced 911 excise tax rate of twenty-five cents per month per switched access line, radio access line and interconnected VoIP service line is fair, just reasonable and sufficient and in the public interest.
- 7 (3) This matter came before the Commission at its regularly scheduled open meeting on October 25, 2012.
