Oh boy!

All I wanted to do in the first place was to make sure to notify all the states that we run through of our name change from INC to Jack B. Kelley, LLC as an interstate carrier.

To answer your question; No, we do not do any intrastate work in Washington at all. So I will be looking for the $275 credit to reflect on my CC statement.

Again, thank you for help. I really appreciate you very much!

Almost! If you're cancelling your intrastate authority all together, than you don't need to go through with the transfer. Do you guys do any intrastate work at all in Washington? If not, I'll just close the whole thing out, refund your money, and we can call it good.

Hello Mike,

We need to cancel the intrastate authority all together as we are not now nor have we ever been an intrastate carrier. We do however need to continue with the transfer from Jack B. Kelley, Inc to Jack B. Kelley, LLC and I understand that the $275 will pay for the transfer.

I hope this information helps to set us straight.

Thanks for working with me on this!
