I respectfully submit this application for mitigation.

Parking and Transportation Management Services is my small company and we only started offering transportation services in 2014. While still no excuse, at the time the report and fees were due I was buried in a multitude of administrative details and the deadline slipped past me. I flat messed up and sincerely apologize. The report and fees have now been filed and paid and I have implemented procedures in my organization to ensure they will not be tardy again. I take full responsibility for not submitting the report and paying the fees on time and am prepared to pay the penalty; however, I am hopeful that you'll consider my request for a reduction or dismissal as it was my first experience with the reports and the process.

I thank you for your consideration. Please do not hesitate to contact me should you need additional information.
