I spoke with Mrs. Hill and we feel that if we need to reinstate, we will.

For now lets' cancel it.

Thanks.

Any anticipation when the decision will be made? I can keep it open for a bit longer while you resolve that, but if it's too long, I will have to cancel it. But like I said, it can always be reinstated if necessary.

That's fine, but if you are not holding the appropriate insurance, you may not have an active permit. Are you still holding Commercial Auto Liability and Cargo insurance?

We are in the process of making a corporate decision.

We will let you know.

Hello, our Annual Reports staff informed us that you currently do not operate any vehicles, and therefore most likely are not carrying the required insurance filings to maintain your household goods moving permit. Please let me know if you are no longer operating and I can close out your permit. If you decide to resume operation at a later date, you can always reinstate the permit.
