Gentlemen:

I am an eighty three year old widow who owns a home in the Olympus Development in Newcastle, Washington. We are hard working, tax paying, law abiding citizens and our lives have been made a nightmare by Puget Sound Energy. For seven years we have been involved in fighting Puget Sound Energy who are determined to put large metal towers over the Olympic Pipe Line in order to increase the power.

I believe they have spent about 80 million dollars in this useless endeavor and now they have come to the realization that with decreased need for power they want to put up their rates by a substantial amount and guess what they want the same hard working, tax paying, law abiding citizens to pay!

Please, please listen to us and stop the big bully who not only wants to threaten our lives, but get us to foot the bill.

I sincerely hope you know of the dangers to the public of putting high voltage over gas lines enroute to Seattle Airport. The young boys in Bellingham who were burnt to death due to the pipe line explosion - those parents have never ever had a day when they did not think of their beloved sons.

Please listen to us.

Sincerely,

Linda Young
