RE: Penalty assessed for late annual report

August 5, 2012

To whom it may concern,

We recently received a large fine for turning in our annual report late. We are writing to respectfully request a reduction in the amount. My wife and I struggle to keep up with the paperwork required to keep a business running and while we have learned much in the past few years, we still have far to go.

We are also in a very stressful situation with the federal government that is taking much of our time, energy and financial reserves. Though I have been in this country for more than 10 years, entered legally, began a legal business, pay taxes and am married to a US Citizen, I am ~~currently fighting deportation~~. If I get deported I will lose everything I have worked for - not to mention my family, home and friends. This has put so much pressure on me that I have let other responsibilities fall through the cracks.

I apologize for my annual reports' tardiness. Please consider this letter in making your final decision.

Thank you for your kind consideration,

Eduardo and Julie (Fielder) Ponce
